

Fashionable Fundraiser

The Carle Place Key Club recently hosted its annual Student/Teacher Fashion Show.

More than 100 Key Club members participated in the event, which featured students, along with staff members and their children, strutting their stuff on the runway to model clothes from Lord and Taylor, Dress Barn, Bass, Men's Wearhouse and Estelle's Dressy Dresses. More than 30 local vendors and Carle Place families provided raffles and large donations for the event.

The show raised money for Victoria Monteforte, 2, whose mother, Lisa Sterlacci-Monteforte, is a Carle Place resident and 1999 graduate of Carle Place High School. Victoria was diagnosed with Idiopathic Thrombocytopenia Purpura, an autoimmune disorder in which the immune system attacks the body's platelets. Victoria receives blood transfusions to help treat this rare disease. She needs the help of the community to raise awareness for ITP and to fund treatments not covered by insurance.

The sold-out show raised a remarkable $17,373 for ITP awareness and Victoria's treatments, a feat that showcased school unity and community pride.
